Moves Made To Reopen Dixie Schools

Legal Tests Continue As Integration Fuss Remains Unsettled

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Plans are being made to provide educational facilities for some of the 17,000 youngsters idled by school closings in Arkansas and Virginia and the dynamiting of the high school at Clinton, Tenn.

Fourteen schools are shut down in the three states. In several sections, legal sparring continued between state and federal authorities while statements on the integration crisis came from Washington and Florida.

Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter asked Monday for a constructive use of time in school integration in general but said that lawlessness if not checked is the forerunner of anarchy. He issued an opinion concurring with the court's unanimous decision in the Little Rock case last week.

In Little Rock, Gov. Orval E. Faubus expressed belief that private all-white schools would be in operation by mid-October. He made the statement a few hours after an appellate court in St. Louis extended until Oct. 15 a ban on operation of the four high schools as private, segregated institutions.

Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the Little Rock Private School Corp., said his group planned to begin operating as soon as possible in private buildings with private donations without waiting for the Oct. 15 federal court decision.

At Clinton, state and federal authorities continued searching for clues to the identity of the dynamiters while 850 high school pupils, including 11 Negroes, prepared to shift classes to an elementary school at Oak Ridge six miles from Clinton.

Principal W. D. Human said as he outlined plans to send the youngsters to Oak Ridge by bus, probably starting Thursday. The Atomic Energy Commission authorized use of the vacant school at Oak Ridge because some children of AEC employees attended Clinton.

Clinton High was integrated by federal court order two years ago. Several incidents occurred the first year but the situation quieted down later.

In Virginia, Duncan C. Gibb, chairman of a citizens' committee which formed an educational foundation in Warren County, said juniors and seniors of the closed high school at Front Royal would start emergency classes Wednesday. Eight other schools in Charlottesville and Norfolk remained closed.

Federal Judge Albert V. Bryan refused to dismiss a suit seeking admission of 14 Negroes to two white high and three elementary schools in Alexandria, Va. He set Oct. 30 as the date for arguments in the case.

Nasser Eliminates Syrian UAR Veep

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser's hold on Syria tightened today with the elimination of a vice president of the United Arab Republic who hindered close Egyptian rule of the province.

Sabri Assali, the last premier of Syria before it voluntarily joined Egypt under Nasser last February, said he had resigned the vice presidency he got when the two countries merged. The government-controlled Middle East News Agency said he was dropped.

Assali was removed to clear the way for a central government instead of the present system of dual ministries for the two provinces, the news agency said.

Youngster Revived After 'Drowning'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Walter Kimball was washing her car Monday at her home here. She left a bucket of water at the rear of the car while she cleaned the interior with a vacuum cleaner.

When she went around to pick up the pail, she discovered her 1-year-old daughter Brenda Sue, headfirst in the pail and not breathing.

Her husband, who had been working in the garage, pulled the baby from the water, wrapped her in a blanket and began administering artificial respiration.

When emergency squadmen arrived, Brenda Sue was breathing again. Squadmen administered oxygen for 20 minutes and the child required no hospital treatment.

Gov. O'Neill's Publicity Crew Given Lashing

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle said here Monday there has been an undue and costly expansion of state public relations staff payrolls and brazen exploitation of their output to further political ambitions of Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The Democratic candidate for governor said his Republican opponent does not need to have a publicity mill operating on the present scale to keep the people of Ohio informed.

"Highway publicity alone has been reported to cost more than $155,000 yearly—about three times what it cost two years ago," DiSalle told campaign rally audiences here.

He cited as examples of department publications which "have been brazenly exploited for political purposes in recent months . . .

"The cartoon-type booklet of the Welfare Department, carrying the governor's picture on the cover . . ."

A "Highway Facts" publication carrying "the name of the governor but nowhere the name of the highway director, nor, for that matter, very few verified facts."

"The press release cannot be substituted for the press conference," DiSalle said, "because it precludes the right of questioning, which the press has a right to expect. And even the press conference loses its effectiveness if it generates only a series of 'no comment' replies."

DiSalle, in speeches here and in nearby Campbell and Struthers said he had reports O'Neill supporters in Mahoning County were promising patronage to Democrats for their support.

Japan Court Upholds Conviction of U.S. GI

TOKYO (AP)—The Tokyo Higher Court today upheld a 10-month suspended sentence given Sgt. I.C. Paul J. Webber, 39, of Havertown, Pa., for drunken driving resulting in the death of four Japanese.

Webber allegedly was drunk when he drove his car into a group of Japanese repairing the tail of a truck near Yokohama near midnight Dec. 8, 1956.

Ike Eager To Put Prestige On Political Campaign Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower apparently is eager to lay his prestige heavily on the line in a stepped-up congressional campaign he says may decide the fate of "moderate government."

His White House pep meeting with GOP leaders Monday produced strong signs that he will bear down on the twin issues of socialism and higher taxes in a forthcoming chins-up tour to stir up Republican voters.

At the same time, he made it clear he is ready to take on all Democratic critics of the manner in which he has handled the crisis over Quemoy and Matsu.

GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn reported Eisenhower was "very vigorous" in condemning those who contend the Nationalist-held islands aren't worth fighting for.

However, a joint statement issued by the conferees after a 2½-hour session with Eisenhower laid heaviest stress on the contention that continued Democratic control of Congress would point the country "down the left lane" which inescapably leads to socialism."

Alcorn quoted Vice President Nixon as expressing the belief at the conference that peace and economic recovery are the principal campaign issues.

Pontiff Develops Fever after Rally

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII had a slight return of fever today after a surprising rally from a stroke. But a medical bulletin said his condition continued generally satisfactory.

His temperature had returned to normal earlier in a day that saw him recover from paralysis, emerge completely from a coma and eat solid food, an evening medical bulletin said.

The 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church, felled Monday by a cerebral stroke, recognized persons in his sickroom and spoke a few words.

A morning medical bulletin indicated the Pope's tremendous continuing resistance to his second serious illness in four years.

There were cautious expressions of hope he could recover.

Even so, his condition continued to be regarded as grave.

The morning bulletin was the third to be issued since the Pope was stricken. Read in the square

"The condition of His Holiness, in general, continued to improve throughout the night. His senses appear to be completely lucid. There are no signs of failure of the movements. Last night the hiccups (with which the Pope has been troubled for a week) again disappeared, but they disappeared early this morning . . ."

The bulletin added, "There are no signs of motor deficiency." This indicated that the partial paralysis which accompanied the stroke had ended.

Earlier Msgr. Angelo dell'Acqua told newsmen the Pope had been a quiet night and "his improvement is satisfactory and progressive."

One of the attending doctors, Prof. Ermanno Mingazzini, said he was recovering from the stroke. Mingazzini also said a kidney block which developed Monday had been overcome.

The bulletin was signed by the Pope's personal physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi; Antonio Gasbarri, a specialist from Bologna; Mingazzini; and Ferdinand Corelli.

Scores of persons maintained a vigil outside the palace in this hill town 18 miles south of Rome. Thousands of messages of hope for his recovery poured into the Vatican. Around the world prayers were said.

The "bomb" was made of sticks of wood wrapped in red paper with an alarm clock wired to the top. It had been kicking around the National Tag Co. for several days.

Big trouble was that someone left it on the firm's loading platform Monday night. Patrolmen in a police cruiser spotted it early this morning.

A bevy of policemen and a demolition squad from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base assembled quickly. The area was closed off to all but the experts.

The experts gave the contrivance one look and informed the police they could tell everyone to relax.

Suspended Hospital Official Getting Mental Examination

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—John David Swagerty, suspended administrator of Maumee Valley Hospital, is in Toledo State Hospital today on a warrant of mental illness signed by his wife.

In the past some Republicans have grumbled that Eisenhower himself was too much of a New Dealer to suit them because of his proposals for expansion of social and welfare services of the government.

The presidentially approved statement pictured a bleak future for private enterprise if the Democrats win in November.

It said that because the Democratic party is "dominated by certain politico-labor bosses and left-wing extremists" any future Congress controlled by the party "would be far to the left of the New and Fair Deals."

"Taxation for political purposes would again become a harsh reality with an increased Democratic majority in Congress," the GOP leaders said. "Imposition of higher federal taxes to finance grandiose spending schemes would become a reality."

Alcorn quoted Vice President Nixon as expressing the belief at the conference that peace and economic recovery are the principal campaign issues.

However, a joint statement issued by the conferees after a 2½-hour session with Eisenhower laid heaviest stress on the contention that continued Democratic control of Congress would point the country "down the left lane" which inescapably leads to socialism."

The White House announced the 70-year-old jurist's unexpected request for retirement Monday night a short time after the court opened its regular fall term.

The announcement gave no indication of whom President Eisenhower might name as a successor to Burton or how soon he might act.

Burton, a Republican, wrote Eisenhower he was retiring "with regret but in accordance with competent medical advice and with a desire to serve the best interests of all concerned." Burton's two-paragraph letter didn't elaborate.

Approving the request, Eisenhower praised Burton for "devoted and dedicated public service."

Eisenhower's appointment of a successor will be his fifth to the nine-man court.

Except for his selection of Chief Justice Warren—a former California governor and twice an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination—Eisenhower has picked Supreme Court judges from other judicial posts.

Of the three other Eisenhower appointees, Justices John M. Harlan and Charles Evans Whittaker were federal appeals court judges and Justice William J. Brennan was a member of the New Jersey State Supreme Court.

With Burton leaving, the court has five Democratic and three Republican members, the latter being Warren, Harlan and Whittaker.

Burton's retirement leaves the court with only one justice, Tom C. Clark, who was appointed by former President Truman. The other three were named by Franklin D. Roosevelt. They are Justices Hugo L. Black, Felix Frankfurter and William O. Douglas.

Sabina Officer Offers To Quit

Youths Accusations Made to Council

SABINA — Patrolman Leonard Cox tendered his resignation from the Sabina police force to the village council after two juveniles had accused him of improper conduct.

The accusation was made in the open meeting of council Monday night, but his resignation was tendered verbally at a closed-door session that was hurriedly called to consider the accusation.

Part of what went on behind the closed doors was disclosed later by Mayor W. H. Hill. Others in the meeting said Patrolman Cox took off his badge and gun and laid them on the table, saying he would quit "rather than fuss about this."

Mayor Hill said Cox had not yet submitted a formal written resignation and added that he felt the accusations would have to be presented in writing and properly notarized before Council could consider them officially.

Both the mayor and Solicitor Paul Pusateri said the resignation had not been acted on.

MAYOR HILL said Tuesday that Cox was not on duty, but pointed out that "this was his day off."

Solicitor Pusateri also said that the accusations would have to be formally submitted to the mayor in writing before Council acts on them.

The mayor commented that he doubted that anything will come of the accusations.

The incident erupted spontaneously at the regular Council when a 17-year-old youth asked Mayor Hill for the floor to make a statement. It was then that he and another youth made their verbal accusations to Council.

Patrolman Cox was called in from his beat and six-member Council went into the mayor's office for the closed meeting.

Cox, 41, lives in Bloomington and has been on the police force for nine months. He could not be reached by telephone Tuesday for comment on the Monday night accusations.

IN OTHER ACTION concerning the police force, the Council instructed Mayor Hill to take direct control of the department. Cecil Anders, council president, said council agreed that the mayor was responsible for the police force and would like to see him "take things in hand" for a while.

No definite period was stipulated for the mayor's direct control of the police department.

Council gave the Junior Chamber of Commerce the green light to take a survey to determine whether Sabina residents wanted a public park.

Two methods of financing the proposed sanitary sewer system also were discussed by council. No definite decision was reached.

Farmer Never Had It So Good Benson Says

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said today that the American farmer "never had it so good."

At the same time, Benson told a news conference that he believes farmers are concerned about forces threatening the American way of life.

At a luncheon of the National Affairs Forum sponsored by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce Benson described these forces as "a strange and unlikely coalition of the well-intended, the slothful, and the subversive."

At a news conference before his speech, he was asked about the political effects of prosperity on the farms, and he said he believes this will reflect itself in some gains for Republicans in Congress.

"The farmer never had it so good, with abundant products, good prices and costs fairly stable, which makes for a perfect combination," he added.

In his speech Benson called for believers in the free enterprise system to battle to preserve it.

He said that the three pillars of the nation's economic system—which he named as the right to venture, the right to own, and the right to exchange—are under attack by critics of the system, self-seekers and those dedicated to its overthrow.

"This is not only the farmers' battle to be free," he said in a speech prepared for a national affairs forum conducted by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

"This is your battle—the battle of everyone who believes in individual enterprise rather than bureaucrats. I am convinced that businessmen and their organizations should be as fully active politically as any other group."

Benson made a similar appeal in a speech before the Rotary Club at Seattle last week. The Agriculture Department in Washington, which issued texts of the statement, described them as "nonpolitical."

The secretary urged that business and labor to go slow in seeking higher wages and prices.

"One of the complaints I hear most frequently from farmers,"

Problem Pupils Need Special Class, Belief

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Problem pupils usually turn out to be pupils with problems, but if they're bad enough they must be expelled.

That is the consensus of 25 assistant superintendents and directors of secondary education from cities of more than 200,000 population gathered here for a discussion of common problems.

Stock Prices Mill Unevenly Close to Top

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market milled unevenly in active trading near its record high early this afternoon.

Most changes were narrow. Gains and losses of leading stocks were held generally within a 1-point range.

The market was at the crest of a three-day advance to historic peaks. Considerable profit taking and switching was evident.

Coppers were higher at the start but turned mixed by mid-session. A tightened supply has resulted from strikes at mines in Rhodesia and Canada, leading to predictions of a further price boost.

Aircrafts took losses. American Motors was strong. Building materials showed some plus signs. Selected issues made fair progress.

The ticker tape was late five minutes at the opening. Magna, an outstanding gainer lately, was clipped for more than a 1-point loss. Kennebunk dropped about a point and Anaconda a fraction. Phelps Dodge held a fractional gain. Homestead and International Nickel were slight losers.

American Motors rose about a point. Ford eased. Other motor stocks were about unchanged.

Brunswick-Balke and U.S. Gypsum drew buying and each rose more than a point. Minute Maid was active and higher by a sizable fraction.

Lockheed dropped a point as the company's chairman said orders for Electra turboprop transports are short of the firm's goal. Boeing and Douglas Aircraft also were off about a point each.

U.S. Steel and American Steelphone took fractional losses. Eastman Kodak and Air Reduction were off around a point.

Gains were posted by Raytheon, Sperry Rand, Allied Chemical, Texas Co., Illinois Central and American Smelting.

Long-range U. S. government bonds edged higher.

Sabina Officer Offers To Quit

Youths Accusations Made to Council

SABINA — Patrolman Leonard Cox tendered his resignation from the Sabina police force to the village council after two juveniles had accused him of improper conduct.

The accusation was made in the open meeting of council Monday night, but his resignation was tendered verbally at a closed-door session that was hurriedly called to consider the accusation.

Part of what went on behind the closed doors was disclosed later by Mayor W. H. Hill. Others in the meeting said Patrolman Cox took off his badge and gun and laid them on the table, saying he would quit "rather than fess up about this."

Mayor Hill said Cox had not yet submitted a formal written resignation and added that he felt the accusations would have to be presented in writing and properly notarized before Council could consider them officially.

Both the mayor and Solicitor Paul Pusateri said the resignation had not been acted on.

MAYOR HILL said Tuesday that Cox was not on duty, but pointed out that "this was his day off."

Solicitor Pusateri concurred in Mayor Hill's belief that the accusations would have to be formally submitted to the mayor in writing before Council acts on them.

Seeding of School Grounds Is 'Bargain' As Custodians, Board Members Pitch In

Seeding of grounds at the new Belle Aire and Eastside elementary schools, which would have cost as much as $1,399 on the basis of bids received from private firms, is nearly complete.

But with the cooperation of the city school maintenance staff, plus a bit of outside assistance and equipment, the job has been done at an outlay of only $75.

Much of the work has been done by Loren Butcher, custodian at Belle Aire school, and William Clickner, a roving maintenance man for the city school system.

BUT THAT isn't by any means all of the cooperative effort that has gone into the improvement of the grounds surrounding the new schools.

In its minutes the City Board of Education has expressed its appreciation to Board Member Stanley Dray, who donated many hours of service in preparing the 30 acres surrounding Eastside School for seeding and also donated the use of personally owned equipment as well as some seed, to get the job done.

Recognition also was given to Board Member Robert Terhune for personal efforts in securing seed donations and for actual seeding work, and to Board President Elmer Reed for labor and time in operating a tractor on the seeding project.

THE BOARD'S appreciation also has been expressed to Eshelman Feed Inc., County Treasurer Charles Fabb, Fayette Farm Service, Farm Bureau Cooperative Assn. and McDonald and Sons Elevators for their contributions.

Tabled at a board meeting Monday night was a $930 bid from the Merriweather Nurseries for landscaping the Eastside and Belle Aire grounds. The board postponed action on landscaping after going over plans and charts submitted by the local firm.

Parents Urged Be Informed About Schools

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Grand Rapids school committee woman says she believes parents "need to realize that all children can't be mathematicians or scientists."

Mrs. Fred L. Keeler, also a vice president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, said Monday:

"But most children have potential skills required to do some kind of work that is necessary to this nation's economy."

"Never sell short the child with the skillful hands. Sputniks and satellites may be conceived and designed by experts, but it takes the skillful hands of many to execute and launch the project."

Mrs. Keeler addressed the annual meeting of the Ohio PTA Congress.

She said that it seems that some parents have only a foggy idea of what goes on in the classroom. She said:

"Many principals and teachers say to me as a member of our local school board, 'The only time I ever see a parent is when his child is in trouble or when he, the parent, believes his John or his Jane isn't getting a square deal.'

The educators agreed authorities are doing everything possible to help the trouble-causing student through physical and psychological tests and counseling with the youngster and his parents.

Four more charges have been added to the original reckless operation charge filed against Dale Coil, 18, Route 5, according to police.

He will be cited for running two stop signs, reckless operation, resisting arrest and driving without his lights as soon as he leaves Memorial Hospital.

Officers said they took up pursuit of Coil when they noticed his excessive speed. They said they followed Coil for about 10 minutes while he ran three stop signs and went through several alleys before the collision.

Their House of Bishops, the church's top ecclesiastical authorities, approved the plan Monday and sent it on to the House of Deputies, second branch of the church's law-making congress.

"It's a step forward and will further the cause of Christian unity," said the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding bishop of the three-million-member church.

Five other Anglican communions, including the Church of England, already have taken similar regarding the Indian church, made up of former Anglicans, Methodists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists.

Nine candidates were entered into the race for a successor to Bishop Sherrill, who is retiring after holding the church's powerful top post for 11 years.

The 650-member House of Deputies paused during their business session to pray for the recovery of the stricken Pope Pius XII, head of the Roman Catholic church.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

I have been asked for some information about the Cayuga or Mingo Indian Chief, Logan, (1725-1780) who formerly hunted wild game in Marion Township in this county, and who is credited by some historians with one of the finest bits of oratory in American history—and about which I have always been skeptical.

The Logan Elm State Park in Pickaway County was named after Logan, who formerly roamed this part of Ohio, trading with the white men and killing game. Later with some of his cohorts he mercilessly murdered the white settlers and their families.

History relates Logan was a half-breed, son of a white man known as Chief Shikelanay, and was born in the Susquehanna River Valley in Pennsylvania. He was called Logan after James Logan, prominent Pennsylvania official and friend of the Indians.

He was, according to history, a man of exceptional physique and good appearance generally, and his Indian name was Tah-gah-pile. I saw a transcription of Logan's speech in a rare copy of McGuffey's Third Reader, dating back in the 1830s. It has been widely quoted.

The speech, as quoted by Thomas Jefferson, contains words which Logan probably never heard, or if he did, was not aware of their meaning.

Here is the speech as carried by Jefferson:

"I appeal to any white man to say, if ever he entered Logan's cabin hungry and I gave him not meat; if ever he came cold or naked, and I gave him not clothing."

"During the course of the last long and bloody war, Logan remained in his tent, an advocate for peace. Nay, such was my love for the whites that those of my own country pointed at me as they passed by and said: 'Logan is the friend of white men.'

"I had even thought to live with you but for the injuries of one man, Colonel Cresap, the last spring, in cold blood, and unprovoked, cut off all the relatives of Logan, not sparing even my women and children."

"There runs not a drop of my blood in the veins of any human creature. This called on me for revenge. I sought it. I have killed many. I have fully glutted my vengeance."

"For my country I rejoice at the beams of peace. Yet do not harbor the thought that mine is the joy of fear. Logan never felt fear. He will not turn on his heel to save his life. Who is there to mourn for Logan? Not one."

NO LOGAN ELM SERVICES

For many years on the first Sunday in October, a big celebration was staged at Logan Elm State Park in Pickaway County, under the title "Ohio History Day". It drew many people from this area.

Year after year prominent speakers were on the program, and a band furnished music.

One time Chief Long Lance of Canada, former middleweight boxing champion, was the speaker. He later committed suicide.

The event finally dwindled in attendance and after the death of Dr. Jones, of Circleville, the organization ceased to exist.

Then the public schools took up the custom and for a few years presented a program.

This year no celebration was held, and none was held last year.

Chief Hall said that in the last decade fire has killed more than 100,000 persons and ruined countless others. In 1957 alone there were 2 million fires with a total loss of 11,300 lives and over a billion dollar loss in property damage. He said the challenge of Fire Prevention Week is to reduce this tragic toll.

Some historians openly doubt the authenticity of the speech, and certainly its wording never came from Logan, who could not write.

One historian more than 100 years ago says of the record speech:

"Its authenticity is open to much doubt, however," and another historian writes: "It must be the production of Logan, or of John Gibson, the only white man who heard the original." It is noted that Gibson had marked ability as a writer.

Gibson told his superior officers about Logan's statement, and they had it published in the Virginia Gazette in 1774.

The purported speech was sent

Fire Prevention Week Observed in Washington C. H.

Fire Prevention Week, which started Monday, marks the 87th anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire, according to Fire Chief George Hall.

The Fire Marshal's Assn., now a section of the National Fire Protection Assn., started the original fire prevention day in 1911. In 1920 it became National Fire Prevention Day and was expanded to a week in 1922. The national sponsors include the International Assn. of Fire Chiefs, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Department of Agriculture and other organizations.

Fire Prevention Week, which extends through Saturday, is proclaimed on the state and national level and has also been made an official week here by City Manager J. David Foel. He asks that the community join with the Fire Department, the state fire marshal and others in making the city a safer place in which to live.

Chief Hall said that in the last decade fire has killed more than 100,000 persons and ruined countless others. In 1957 alone there were 2 million fires with a total loss of 11,300 lives and over a billion dollar loss in property damage. He said the challenge of Fire Prevention Week is to reduce this tragic toll.

Then the public schools took up the custom and for a few years presented a program.

This year no celebration was held, and none was held last year.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

I have been asked for some information about the Cayuga or Mingo Indian Chief, Logan, (1725-1780) who formerly hunted wild game in Marion Township in this county, and who is credited by some historians with one of the finest bits of oratory in American history—and about which I have always been skeptical.

The Logan Elm State Park in Pickaway County was named after Logan, who formerly roamed this part of Ohio, trading with the white men and killing game. Later with some of his cohorts he mercilessly murdered the white settlers and their families.

History relates Logan was a half-breed, son of a white man known as Chief Shikelanuy, and was born in the Susquehanna River Valley in Pennsylvania. He was called Logan after James Logan, prominent Pennsylvania official and friend of the Indians.

He was, according to history, a man of exceptional physique and good appearance generally, and his Indian name was Tah-gah-pile. For years he was a leading friend of the white man until some of his relatives, including women and children (but not his wife) were massacred by a party of whites supposed to have been led by Capt. Cresap, but history indicates that Cresap was not a party to the bloody event.

It was led by Daniel Greathouse at Yellow Creek.

Smarting under this slaughter of his relatives, Logan and his band of followers murdered white settlers relentlessly in revenge.

When Lord Dunmore came into this area with an army to make peace with the Indians (a treaty was concluded in southern Pickaway County in the Logan Elm area), Logan, who it is recorded, had developed into little more than a habitual drunkard, refused to attend the conference.

One John Gibson was sent to confer with Logan, and it was then Logan, an uneducated Indian is supposed to have made the famous speech, which apparently, was written by Gibson.

That was in 1774. Logan's camp in southern Pickaway County.

Logan continued his debauchery until, about 1780, when, crazed with liquor, he attacked a party of friendly Indians, and was killed by one of his own relatives, Tod-had-ho. One historian claims he was murdered near Detroit.

Some historians openly doubt the authenticity of the speech, and certainly its wording never came from Logan, who could not write.

One historian more than 100 years ago says of the record speech:

"Its authenticity is open to much doubt, however," and another historian writes: "It must be the production of Logan, or of John Gibson, the only white man who heard the original." It is noted that Gibson had marked ability as a writer.

Gibson told his superior officers about Logan's statement, and they had it published in the Virginia Gazette in 1774.

The purported speech was sent to Lord Dunmore, and this version differs in wording from that carried in Thomas Jefferson's "Notes on Virginia," showing that it had been embellished considerably from the copy sent to Lord Dunmore.

The speech, as quoted by Thomas Jefferson, contains words which Logan probably never heard, or if he did, was not aware of them meaning.

I saw a transcription of Logan's speech in a rare copy of McGuffey's Third Reader, dating back in the 1830s. It has been widely quoted.

Here is the speech as carried by Jefferson:

"I appeal to any white man to say, if ever he entered Logan's cabin hungry and I gave him not meat; if ever he came cold or naked and I gave him not clothing.

"During the course of the last long and bloody war, Logan remained in his tent, an advocate for peace. Nay, such was my love for the whites that those of my own country pointed at me as they passed by and said: 'Logan is the friend of white men.'

"I had even thought to live with you but for the injuries of one man, Colonel Cresap, the last spring, in cold blood, and unprovoked, cut off all the relatives of Logan, not sparing even my women and children.

"There runs not a drop of my blood in the veins of any human creature. This called on me for revenge. I sought it. I have killed many. I have fully glutted my vengeance.

"For my country I rejoice at the beams of peace. Yet do not harbor the thought that I am the joy of fear. Logan never felt fear. He will not turn on his heel to save his life. Who is there to mourn for Logan? Not one."

NO LOGAN ELM SERVICES

For many years on the first Sunday in October, a big celebration was staged at Logan Elm State Park in Pickaway County, under the title "Ohio History Day". It drew many people from this area.

Year after year prominent speakers were on the program, and a band furnished music.

One time Chief Long Lance of Canada, former middleweight boxing champion, was the speaker. He later committed suicide.

The event finally dwindled in attendance and after the death of Dr. Jones, of Circleville, the organization ceased to exist.

Then the public schools took up the custom and for a few years presented a program.

This year no celebration was held, and none was held last year.

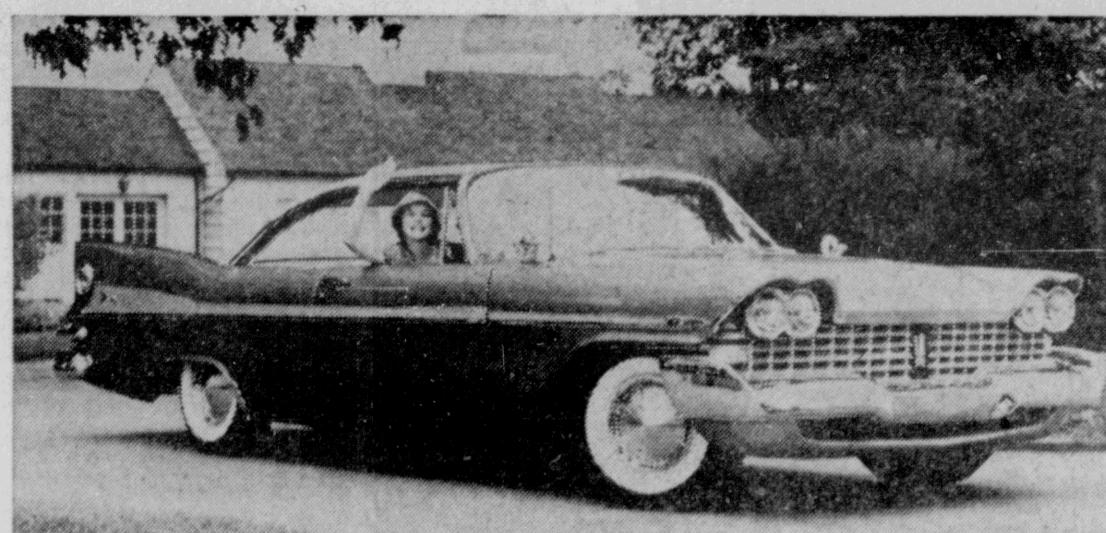

Great Britain's population has increased more than four and one-half million in the past 25 years.

One historian more than 100 years ago says of the record speech:

"Its authenticity is open to much doubt, however," and another historian writes: "It must be the production of Logan, or of John Gibson, the only white man who heard the original." It is noted that Gibson had marked ability as a writer.

Gibson told his superior officers about Logan's statement, and they had it published in the Virginia Gazette in 1774.

French Election Promises More Unity

There seems to be a general opinion that France faces a more hopeful outlook since the recent smashing victory for De Gaulle, his newly presented constitution, or both.

For much too long it has been evident to world observers that disturbing conditions have caused France for many years to undergo a series of weak governments; the crucial question now appears to be whether De Gaulle and the new French Constitution will reflect a majority will of the whole French nation over the past divergent wilfulness of a dozen or more minorities.

Support for what was known as the De Gaulle Administration and the new Constitution far exceeded what the ardent advocates of the present leader and the new Constitution had dared to hope. It seemed to be a popular demand and desire for definite French unity.

This result seems a positive setback for the trouble-making Communist element in France. It also presents a favorable opportunity for the French people to incorporate in their governmental system a stronger and more substantial outlook to combine freedom with orderly procedure.

All this can mean that France, in following the course the recent election indicated, can become a real asset to the North Atlantic Alliance, which is the mainstay fortress in Europe against overrunning Communist aggression.

It appears probable that much has been accomplished toward a course of strong and sane procedure for France in the future. More remains to be accomplished, but there is promise it can be done with less spectacular effect in the way of good everyday work and some sacrifice toward providing a future of security.

France's friends want to see that accomplished and France needs it.

Grover Whalen with Barnacles

By HUGH MULLIGAN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Four or five times a month, Capt. Roald L. Olsen takes his fire engine out into New York harbor to embrace some very important visitor with a warm and wet welcoming kiss.

As skipper of the fireboat John D. McKean, otherwise known as engine No. 37, Olsen functions as a sort of Grover Whalen greeter with barnacles and without carnation. His job is to wave the official municipal hello with nozzles.

Since a good many dignitaries of various rank and renown go flitting in and out of New York in any given month, Olsen has to gauge the gush of his greeting to the importance of the celebrity.

Someone like Winston Churchill, who has sampled Olsen's spume, would rate the maximum cascade of cordiality. That is eight boats in the fire department fleet gather-ered round in a ring and each pumping up 10,000 gallons of sea water a minute in sprays 100 feet high.

It's a sight that the visitor is apt to remember all his life, particularly if a stiff breeze fans a few hundred gallons across his brow.

"When the atomic submarine Nautilus got back from the North Pole, we even broke out two or three rail hoses on each side of the boat, in addition to the five big monitor guns on deck," Olsen recalled. "It was raining very hard, but that was a very special occasion so it called for more water."

The extra rail pipes put the Nautilus on a social level with the Queen of England. But lesser nobility or events, say the arrival of a new U.N. delegation or the opening of a new pier, might rate only two or three boats, depending on their standing in aquatic protocol.

"It's like deciding whether someone should get an 11- or a 21-gun salute," Olsen explained. "Fortunately, we don't have to make the decision. The fire commissioner, sometimes even the State Department, decides how many boats will go and what they'll do."

Sometimes, if a waterfront fire should break out at the same time, an eight-boat big shot is liable to find himself without a trick of welcome.

"When the alarm sounds," said Olsen, "we turn right around and head for the fire, no matter how small it is or how big the visitor is. That's our primary job, after all. The eight boats have to patrol 578 miles of waterfront, and we often get called down to Jersey or out to Long Island to help fight a ship or pier blaze."

Russia's Greatest Defeat

The victory of Gen. Charles De Gaulle is undoubtedly the greatest defeat that Russia has known since the Russian Revolution of 1917.

In the first place, all the world was given to believe that the Algerians were absolutely opposed to France, hated France, wanted to be free from France. The Algerian vote to remain part of France was 3,356,169 for to 118,615 against. This included Algerian Moslems.

The Russian opposition to De Gaulle took hold only in Guinea where the premier is a Marxist. Otherwise all French colonies voted in the referendum to remain part of France. De Gaulle's judgment was correct.

While there is an Algerian independence movement, it did not show in the votes.

For years and years, the excuse for all France's weaknesses was the terrible strength of the French Communist party. In fact, it is the French Communist party that exercised a control over the United States Communist party, Jacques Duclos, the French leader, stating the ground rules for the American party.

The strength of the French Communist party did not show up in the referendum. In fact, districts that have for years been regarded as communist controlled did not vote against De Gaulle.

In a word, the nationalistic spirit engendered by De Gaulle's movement has already produced a resistance to Soviet subversion in France.

The new constitution can kill the influence of the French Communist party altogether. In the first place, under it, France can switch from proportional representation to majority rule. If that happens, France will enjoy the two party system similar to that which exists in the United States and Great Britain.

It would mean that the splinter parties would disappear and that the Communists, to hold any position, would have to become the principal party in opposition. The referendum vote on the constitution would not indicate that the Communists hold any such position in France today.

Furthermore, subversion will not be tolerated under the new constitution. Such a picture as Thorez presented some years ago when he became ill, will not be permitted again. With all the medical facilities available in France or in any nearby country, he was flown to Moscow to be treated and for recuperation, apparently because the Communists feared that he might talk under an anesthetic.

Then after a prolonged period of hospitalization and cure in Russia,

By George Sokolsky

sia, Thorez came back to France. And the question arose in many minds as to whether Thorez is a citizen of France or of Soviet Russia. And that question must arise concerning Communists in all countries who accept the discipline of Russia.

Of course, it is true that even under the two-party system, Communists do operate, principally by infiltrating the major parties and, in the guise of liberalism or even conservatism, doing the jobs the Kremlin needs to have done.

But it is likely that De Gaulle, who has some considerable knowledge of Communist operations in France, particularly during the days of the resistance, will know how to handle Communist sabotage of France.

Also Andre Malraux, one of De Gaulle's ministers, was once in the Communist party and has had experience with its machinations. He had been in China which in the 1926-27 period was the training ground for Communist leadership.

Therefore it is safe to assume that sooner or later, De Gaulle will find a method of eliminating communist influence from French life. The great vote he received during the referendum justifies him in assuming that he has a mandate to do just that and being a man of action, he will.

Politicians, in all countries, since 1945, have been rather fearful men. They have never understood the Communist phenomenon and have therefore been driven to absurd compromises by it. De Gaulle leads a new way—a hopeful way.

Toledo Council Raps Labor Bans

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—City Council voted 7-2 today to authorize drafting of a resolution against the proposal to regulate labor contracts in Ohio.

Mayor John Yager suggested that the resolution cite grounds that the proposal would create an undue amount of labor-management strife and interfere with the principles of collective bargaining.

The proposal, in the form of a constitutional amendment, will be on the November ballots.

X-ray Will Disclose Gallstone Presence

By HERMAN M. BUNDESEN, M. D.

YOU CAN never tell when you might be stricken by an attack of gallstones. While they generally occur after the age of 40, gallstones can occur at any age of life, even infancy.

Women Susceptible
Gallstones are more likely to affect women than men. They are often found in younger women who have had one or more pregnancies.

Many times they are found by doctors during routine physical examinations of patients who have had no symptoms whatever. X-rays readily reveal their presence.

Gallstones are composed of cholesterol, bile salts and pigments. Their size, color and number varies considerably from patient to patient.

Several Causes

It is believed they are caused chiefly by an injury or infection in the wall of the gall bladder or bile duct. A slowdown in the flow of bile along the ducts and disturbances in the cholesterol concentration also cause gallstones to form. Very probably overeating—one of our really bad habits—often plays a major role in formation of these troublesome stones.

The stones can produce a great deal of pain or none at all. It depends primarily upon their location.

Gallstones, you see, are not always found in the gall bladder. They sometimes are found in the common bile duct, in the

State Assures Ohio Cities Of Prompt Aid in Poor Relief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill says that major Ohio cities will receive prompt financial assistance to meet their poor relief problems.

By expediting tax collections for poor relief, the governor said, a partial distribution of $5 million dollars during December could be made to welfare districts. He estimated another $4 million dollar distribution by Feb. 1.

Representatives of seven cities met with the governor and Mrs. Margaret Ireland, state welfare director, to seek help for pressing relief loads.

The governor said his program would provide payment of about $7 million dollars by the state to welfare districts by next Feb. 1. He said this would be accomplished by making the state's dollar-for-dollar matching of local poor relief expenditures. By Feb. 1, we will arrange a new reimbursement schedule.

Richard Minor, assistant state welfare director, said the program virtually assured cities that they would get poor relief money from the state two months earlier.

Cities asked the state to advance reimbursements by making matching money available on estimated expenditures. The state now takes about two months longer to distribute matching money on the basis of actual reported expenditures.

Attending the meeting were representatives from Columbus, Cleveland, Dayton, Hamilton, Akron and Canton, in addition to Cincinnati.

Cop Chief Caught In Handcuffs

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—To oblige a newspaper photographer, one police chief snapped a pair of handcuffs on another today at the Ohio Assn. of Police Chiefs convention.

Using a pair of handcuffs from a convention exhibit firm in Grubb of Kent managed Martin Seryak of Barberton. But the assembled police chiefs couldn't get the handcuffs off.

A half-hour later and a half-block away from the convention hotel, detectives at police headquarters finally used a pair of pliers to free Seryak.

French Election Promises More Unity

There seems to be a general opinion that France faces a more hopeful outlook since the recent smashing victory for De Gaulle, his newly presented constitution, or both.

For much too long it has been evident to world observers that disturbing conditions have caused France for many years to undergo a series of weak governments; the crucial question now appears to be whether De Gaulle and the new French Constitution will reflect a majority will of the whole French nation over the past divergent willfulness of a dozen or more minorities.

Support for what was known as the De Gaulle Administration and the new Constitution far exceeded what the ardent advocates of the present leader and the new Constitution had dared to hope. It seemed to be a popular demand and desire for definite French unity.

This result seems a positive setback for the trouble-making Communist element in France. It also presents a favorable opportunity for the French people to incorporate in their governmental system a stronger and more substantial outlook to combine freedom with orderly procedure.

All this can mean that France, in following the course the recent election indicated, can become a real asset to the North Atlantic Alliance, which is the mainstay fortress in Europe against overrunning Communist aggression.

It appears probable that much has been accomplished toward a course of strong and sane procedure for France in the future. More remains to be accomplished, but there is promise it can be done with less spectacular effect in the way of good everyday work and some sacrifice toward providing a future of security.

France's friends want to see that accomplished and France needs it.

Grover Whalen with Barnacles

By HUGH MULLIGAN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Four or five times a month, Capt. Roald L. Olsen takes his fire engine out into New York harbor to embrace some very important visitor with a warm and wet welcoming kiss. As skipper of the fireboat John D. McKean, otherwise known as a sort of Grover Whalen greeter with barnacles and without carnation. His job is to wave the official municipal hello with nozzles. Since a good many dignitaries of various rank and renown go flitting in and out of New York in any given month, Olsen has to gauge the gush of his greeting to the importance of the celebrity.

Someone like Winston Churchill, who has sampled Olsen's spume, would rate the maximum cascade of cordiality. That is eight boats in the fire department fleet gathered round in a ring and each pumping up 10,000 gallons of sea-water a minute it sprays 100 feet high.

It's a sight that the visitor is apt to remember all his life, particularly if a stiff breeze fans a few hundred gallons across his brow.

"When the atomic submarine Nautilus got back from the North Pole, we even broke out two or three rail hoses on each side of the boat, in addition to the five big monitor guns on deck," Olsen recalled. "It was raining very hard, but that was a very special occasion so it called for more water."

The extra rail pipes put the Nautilus on a social level with the Queen of England.

But lesser nobility or events, say the arrival of a new U.N. delegation or the opening of a new pier, might rate only two or three boats, depending on their standing in aquatic protocol.

"It's like deciding whether someone should get an 11- or a 21-gun salute," Olsen explained. "Fortunately, we don't have to make the decision. The fire commissioner, sometimes even the State Department, decides how many boats will go and what they'll do."

Sometimes, if a waterfront fire should break out at the same time, an eight-boat big shot is liable to find himself without a trickle of welcome.

"When the alarm sounds," said Olsen, "we turn right around and head for the fire, no matter how small it is or how big the visitor is. That's our primary job, after all. The eight boats have to patrol 578 miles of waterfront, and we often get called down to Jersey or out to Long Island to help fight a ship or pier blaze."

Russia's Greatest Defeat

The victory of Gen. Charles De Gaulle is undoubtedly the greatest defeat that Russia has known since the Russian Revolution of 1917.

In the first place, all the world was given to believe that the Algerians were absolutely opposed to France, hated France, wanted to be free from France. The Algerian vote to remain part of France was 3,356,169 for to 118,615 against. This included Algerian Moslems.

The Russian opposition to De Gaulle took hold only in Guinea where the premier is a Marxist. Otherwise all French colonies voted in the referendum to remain part of France. De Gaulle's judgment was correct.

While there is an Algerian independence movement, it did not show in the votes.

For years and years, the excuse for all France's weaknesses was the terrific strength of the French Communist party. In fact, it is the French Communist party that exercised control over the United States Communist party, Jacques Duclos, the French leader, stating the ground rules for the American party.

The strength of the French Communist party did not show up in the referendum. In fact, districts that have for years been regarded as communist controlled did not vote against De Gaulle.

In a word, the nationalistic spirit engendered by De Gaulle's movement has already produced a resistance to Soviet subversion in France.

The new constitution can kill the influence of the French Communist party altogether. In the first place, under it, France can switch from proportional representation to majority rule. If that happens, France will enjoy the two-party system similar to that which exists in the United States and Great Britain.

It would mean that the splinter parties would disappear and that the Communist, to hold any position, would have to become the principal party in opposition. The referendum vote on the constitution would not indicate that the Communists hold any such position in France today.

Furthermore, subversion will not be tolerated under the new constitution. Such a picture as Thorez presented some years ago when he became ill, will not be permitted again. With all the medical facilities available in France or in any nearby country, he was flown to Moscow to be treated and for recuperation, apparently because the Communists feared that he might talk under an anesthetic.

Then after a prolonged period of hospitalization and cure in Russia, referendum is enormous. For France has ever exercised an intellectual and spiritual leadership over Europe; it is, therefore, impossible for such a startling event as the emergence of De Gaulle and his acceptance by a referendum to have taken place without the whole of Europe being affected by it.

By George Sokolsky

This will have responses in every European country and will during the next year bring about unexpected changes in many European attitudes.

Politicians, in all countries, since 1945, have been rather fearful men. They have never understood the Communist phenomenon and have therefore been driven to absurd compromises by it. De Gaulle leads a new way—a hopeful way.

Toledo Council Raps Labor Bans

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—City Council voted 7-2 today to authorize drafting of a resolution against the proposal to regulate labor contracts in Ohio.

Major John Yager suggested that the resolution cite grounds that the proposal would create an undue amount of labor-management strife and interfere with the principles of collective bargaining.

The proposal, in the form of a constitutional amendment, will be on the November ballots.

X-ray Will Disclose Gallstone Presence

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

YOU can never tell when you might be stricken by an attack of gallstones. While they generally occur after the age of 40, gallstones can occur at any age of life, even infancy.

Women Susceptible

Gallstones are more likely to affect women than men. They are often found in younger women who have had one or more pregnancies.

Many times they are found by doctors during routine physical examinations of patients who have had no symptoms whatever. X-rays readily reveal their presence.

Gallstones are composed of cholesterol, bile salts and pigments. Their size, color and number varies considerably from patient to patient.

Several Causes

It is believed they are caused chiefly by an injury or infection in the wall of the gall bladder or bile duct. A slowdown in the flow of bile along the ducts and disturbances in the cholesterol concentration also cause gallstones to form. Very probably overeating—one of our really bad habits—often plays a major role in formation of these troublesome stones.

The stones can produce a great deal of pain or none at all. It depends primarily upon their location.

Gallstones, you see, are not always found in the gall bladder. They sometimes are found in the common bile duct, in the cystic duct—the one which connects the gall bladder and the common bile duct, at the junction of the common bile duct and the duodenum—and in the ducts within the liver.

The stones which remain in the gall bladder generally produce no pain unless they form an obstruction and cause cramps. Usual symptom of this type of gallstone trouble is a fullness in the pit of the stomach after eating pork, cabbage and fried foods.

Severe Pain

When the gallstone or stones move along the bile passages, an attack of biliary colic generally results. This pain can be terribly severe. Patients describe it as knife-like. It usually occurs along the lower border of the right ribs, radiating around to the back and then up to the right shoulder blade.

An attack may last as long as several hours. Each one is enough to make a person double up in agony. These attacks most often occur at night, several hours after eating a heavy meal.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

T.K. Is it necessary to be immunized against diphtheria?

A. Definitely, yes. One of the reasons why diphtheria is not as prevalent as it was formerly is the fact people are now being immunized against it, thus preventing the spread of the disease.

Gallstones, you see, are not always found in the gall bladder. They sometimes are found in the common bile duct, in the

State Assures Ohio Cities Of Prompt Aid in Poor Relief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill says that major cities will receive prompt financial assistance to meet their poor relief problems.

Representatives of seven cities met with the governor and Mrs. Margaret Ireland, state welfare director, to seek help for pressing relief loads.

The governor said his program would provide payment of about 27 million dollars by next Feb. 1.

He said this would be accomplished in the following manner:

The state will make immediate payment of 2.4 million dollars on pending claims for reimbursement of poor relief expenditures.

An advance of another 2.3 million dollars will be made by Oct. 15.

Cop Chief Caught In Handcuffs

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—To oblige a newspaper photographer, one police chief snapped a pair of handcuffs on another today at the Ohio Assn. of Police Chiefs convention.

Using a pair of handcuffs from a convention exhibit Firm in Grubbs of Kent managed Martin Seryak of Barberville. But the assembled police chiefs couldn't get the handcuffs off.

A half-hour later and a half-block from the convention hotel, detectives at police headquarters finally used a pair of pliers to free Seryak.

Grace Church
WSCS Holds
Study Class

Lesson number three of the Bible Study Class of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Grace Methodist Church was held in the Parish House Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Dwight B. Nelson, leader, spoke on the many quotations found in the Book of Isaiah and said "the lessons are the means of refreshing our memories and preserving our strength and faith in the many religious teachings of Isaiah, the prophet."

Devotions were opened with a hymn with Mrs. Rex Pittenger, piano and Mrs. Virgil D. Dwyer, accordionist, played the accompaniment.

Mrs. Dwyer read Scripture verses and made the comparison of a life without God being the same as having no transformer, or connection, and the life having God has the transformer, or connection, that is necessary for a spiritual life. She closed with a prayer.

Mrs. C. L. Lewellen had charge of the study hour and placed emphasis on several subjects as found in the third division of the study of Isaiah, the prophet namely the poetry of Isaiah; hymns selected music, which is a tribute to the Creator; and Faith, which is a requisite of high importance in Christian living.

Mrs. Lewellen was assisted by Mrs. Virgil B. Jennings, who read many quotations of prophecy and also history that gave background for the study. The group sang several hymns in keeping with the quotations.

Mrs. Lewellen, in her summary, stated "the message of Isaiah 2,500 years ago is as relevant today as then, God is guiding history to an end, and our future is in God's hands, yes, even all nations."

A vocal solo, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," was presented by Mrs. Edmond S. Woodmansee, with Mrs. John E. Rhoads as the accompanist.

Mrs. Nelson's closing remarks were "the time spent has been that of education and worship."

Reservations for the meeting must be made with Mrs. Robert Jefferson.

Reserve training units under CONAC-14th.

Griffith-Monnett Vows Exchanged In Newark Presbyterian Church

Palms, candelabra and French baskets of white pom poms and pink carnations decorated the First Presbyterian Church in Newark for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Shirley Lee Griffith and Mr. Kenneth Eugene Monnett.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Griffith, former residents of Washington C. H., now residing at Fieldston Dr. in Newark. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Monnett of Buckeye Lake are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. E. Hoyt Kerr, assisted by the Rev. Raymond Orner of Washington C. H., uncle of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony a half hour program of traditional nuptial music was presented by Miss Judith Sanford, soloist, and Mr. Homer Smith, organist.

The bride escorted to the altar by her father was wearing a floor-length, hand-clipped, Chantilly lace gown designed in a redingote effect over satin and tulle. It also featured long sleeves which came to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil was edged with rosepoint lace and caught to a rhinestone and pearl crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Ada Lee Lutz of Marion, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patty McCourt, Miss Patricia Corder and Miss Marjorie Smith, all of Newark, and Miss Jeanne McKay and Miss Jill Colley of Buckeye Lake.

The bride's attendants were attired in identical gowns of romance blue taffeta fashioned along princess lines. They featured bracelet-length sleeves, cowl draped bateau necklines and low V backs which were accented with a bow and Watteau panel back caught at ing a light blue nylon dress and a crown of light blue carnations. She carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Mr. Charles Monnett was his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Mr. Joseph Bendig, Mr. David Drake, Mr. Richard Vanoy and Mr. Elton Griffith, brother of the bride, all of Newark, and Mr. Robert Taylor of Millersport.

Master Mack Sexton of Buckeye Lake served as ring bearer.

Approximately 300 guests attended the reception held in the Newark YMCA immediately after the ceremony.

Mrs. Griffith, mother of the bride, received guests in a light blue taffeta and lace sheath dress.

Mrs. Monnett, mother of the bridegroom, was wearing a royal blue sheath dress with pink accessories.

Both mothers wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

The YMCA was beautifully decorated with a white wrought iron archway appointed with white pom poms, pink carnations and huckleberry. The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake surrounded by pink rosebuds and huckleberry. Lovely arrangements of pink carnations and white button pom poms adorned the other tables.

Hostesses for the reception were Miss Naomi Fike, Miss Joyce Fulk and Mrs. James Roberts, all of Newark, and Miss Jacqueline Goodwin of Evanston, Ill.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception were from Washington C. H., Marion, Millersport, Chillicothe, Lancaster, Portsmouth, Greenfield, Columbus, Buckeye Lake, Pittsburgh, Pa., Springfield, Dayton, Detroit and Evanston, Ill.

It takes POWER to reach the goal

It is predicted Ohio will be the Number One industrial state by 1967.

Ohio's electric companies share this optimism. They'll "run interference" for this "power play" by continuing to provide plenty of low-cost electricity to meet additional requirements. That's very important in expanding industry and increasing jobs in Ohio.

During the last ten years Ohio's electric companies have invested more than one billion dollars in new facilities. They have doubled the total available power. They expect to double it again in the next decade.

No matter how fast Ohio grows, its electric companies must grow even faster to keep our power supply a step ahead. These companies will meet this goal — paying their own way.

Griffith-Monnett Vows Exchanged In Newark Presbyterian Church

Palms, candelabra and French baskets of white pom poms and pink carnations decorated the First Presbyterian Church in Newark for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Shirley Lee Griffith and Mr. Kenneth Eugene Monnett.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Griffith, former residents of Washington C. H. now residing at Fieldston Dr. in Newark. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Monnett of Buckeye Lake are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. E Hoyt Kerr, assisted by the Rev. Raymond Orner of Washington C. H., uncle of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony a half hour program of traditional nuptial music was presented by Miss Judith Sanford, soloist, and Mr. Homer Smith, organist.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was wearing a floor-length, hand-clipped, Chantilly lace gown designed in a redingote effect over satin and tulle. It also featured long sleeves which came to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil was edged with rosepoint lace and caught to a rhinestone and pearl crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Ada Lee Lutz of Marion, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patsey McCourt, Miss Patricia Corder and Miss Marjorie Smith, all of Newark, and Miss Jeanne McKay and Miss Jill Colley of Buckeye Lake.

The bride's attendants were attired in identical gowns of romance blue taffeta fashioned along princess lines. They featured bracelet-length sleeves, cowl draped bateau necklines and low V backs which were accented with a bow and Watteau panel back caught at the hemlines. Their headpieces were latticed bridle crowns with circle veils. The maid of honor's headpiece was a deeper shade of blue than the bridesmaids', and she carried a colonial bouquet of

The bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and white fuchsia mums. The flower girl, little Miss Lonna Burch of Granville, was wearing a light blue nylon dress and a crown of light blue carnations. She carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Mr. Charles Monnett was his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Mr. Joseph Bendig, Mr. David Drake, Mr. Richard Vanoy and Mr. Elton Griffith, brother of the bride, all of Newark, and Mr. Robert Taylor of Millersport.

Master Mack Sexton of Buckeye Lake served as ring bearer.

Approximately 300 guests attended the reception held in the Newark YMCA immediately after the ceremony.

Mrs. Griffith, mother of the bride, received guests in a light blue taffeta and lace sheath dress.

Mrs. Monnett, mother of the bridegroom, was wearing a royal blue sheath dress with pink accessories.

Both mothers wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

The YMCA was beautifully decorated with a white wrought iron archway appointed with white pom poms, pink carnations and huckleberry. The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake surrounded by pink rosebuds and huckleberry. Lovely arrangements of pink carnations and white button pom poms adorned the other tables.

Hostesses for the reception were Miss Naomi Fike, Miss Joyce Fulk and Mrs. James Roberts, all of Newark, and Miss Jacqueline Goodwin of Evanston, Ill.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception were from Washington C. H., Marion, Millersport, Chillicothe, Lancaster, Portsmouth, Greenfield, Columbus, Buckeye Lake, Pittsburgh, Pa., Springfield, Dayton, Detroit and Evanston, Ill.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Monnett was wearing a black wool jersey sheath dress with black and white accessories. A corsage of white rosebuds was pinned to her shoulder.

After Oct. 13 they will be at home to their friends at 22 Wyoming St. in Newark.

The former Miss Griffith was graduated from Newark High School and attended Ohio State University. She is now employed as a switchboard operator for the Kress Box Co. in Newark.

Mr. Monnett was graduated from Hebron High School, served three years with the U. S. Marine Corps., and attended Ohio State University. He is now employed with the surveying crew of the Jones Construction Co.

Warren Gains More Support As Top Team

Massillon Retains 2nd Spot in Weekly Poll of Grid Experts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Warren Harding clung to the top spot in The Associated Press weekly high school football poll today, extending its lead over second-place Massillon.

The Black Panthers turned in a nifty 30-2 conquest over sixth-ranked Mansfield to get the nod from 40 sports writers. The Tygers had surrendered only eight points to three previous victims before running into Gene Slaughter's powerhouse.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin, 50-0 winner over Glenville, retained third place, and Alliance's Aviators held the fourth spot with a 28-14 verdict over Barberon's Magics, first loss for the Junie Farrell's team.

From there on the standings were scrambled. Elyria whipped Cuyahoga Falls 22-0 to move from eighth to fifth. Cleveland Benedictine's idle defending state champs dropped a notch to sixth. Toledo Libbey won 22-0 over Toledo Scott to move from ninth to seventh, pushing Springfield down a peg to eighth as the Wildcats squeaked by Middleton 8-6.

Mansfield dropped out of the elite list after losing to Warren, and Youngstown East also landed among the also-rans after winning 14-8 over Youngstown Ursuline. Marion Harding moved into ninth place, and Lou Juillerat's Troy team, with 31 straight victories, vaulted into tenth by beating Greenville 28-0. Gordon Larson's Marion team gained stature with its 40-0 verdict over Dayton Roosevelt.

From here and there: Painesville Harvey's fabulous John Mumme, last year's state scoring leader, played only the first half in Friday's 58-6 romp over Geneva. But he added 28 points to his total to reach 106 for the season as the Red Raiders made it 13 in a row. Wellston also made it 13 straight by sneaking past Pomeroy 8-6.

Sophomore fullback Carl Surret scored all four touchdowns in Jackson's 28-8 win over Nelsonville. Wendell Wielke has thrown 10 touchdown passes to Tom Urban in Jeromeville's four six-man games. As Gil Smith's Van Wert team made it 41 in a row against Shawnee Friday, Charley Young returned the opening kickoff 95 yards—only to have the score nullified by an offside penalty. Young booted 14 straight extra points. Massillon's 19-7 win over Steubenville's Big Red came late. Steubenville took a 7-6 lead with seven minutes to go, but Massillon's Jim Snively, a 150-pound sub halfback, ran the kickoff back to the 11 and then scored two plays later. Massillon scored again with seconds to go.

Lorain quarterback Dave Young has completed 21 of 33 passes for 326 yards and four touchdowns. Lorain beat Cleveland John Hay 44-0 last week despite nine fumbles and 10 penalties which cost 120 yards. Alliance quarterback Walter Zingg threw two scoring passes, and gained 145 yards on four of five completions against Barberon.

Middletown held Springfield three times inside the 10-yard line, but finally succumbed 8-6 to a 49-yard touchdown run by Bill Glenn and a conversion plunge by Bob Bradford.

Coach Joe Michaels, who has tutored Frederick's own to four straight wins, watched from the sidelines as the referee marched off four penalties of 15 yards each against his team during a single drive. When the Freddie's finally scored, despite the lost 60 yards, Joe yelled at the man in the striped shirt:

"What'sa matter? Did you give up?"

Jim Brown Gives Running Theory

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fullback Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns has a simple explanation for his spectacular running: "It's just a matter of not giving up."

"When you make contact," Brown said, "if you don't think about it, if you haven't practiced it, you sort of concede the tackle."

"But lots of times, if you give an extra surge, you can pull out," he said and added:

"Lots of times they think they've got you and sort of let up."

And when the tackler lets up, the 228-pound Brown is apt to be off for another touchdown.

Lions Coach Explains His Swap of QBs

DETROIT (AP) — "It's a cruel, hard business," said George Wilson. "But I have a job to do and I can't let sentiment enter into it. If I do, I'm lured."

With that, the straight-talking coach of the world champion Detroit Lions explained why he traded off quarterback Bobby Layne.

The deal was completed Monday. It sent the 31-year-old Layne to the Pittsburgh Steelers for quarterback Earl Morrall and two high draft choices, one next year and one in 1960.

The swashbuckling Layne — never a great passer, never a great runner but always a peerless leader and clutch performer — is given as much credit as anybody for bringing championship football to Detroit.

Yet, his off-the-field activities over the years and his apparent lack of his old-time zing both on the field and in the clubhouse in the last couple of months have been a source of distress to his teammates, coaches and the club's official family.

Having two front-line quarterbacks became an impossible situation for Wilson, and the Lions. Two summers ago Detroit gave up four players to get quarterback Tobin Rote from Green Bay.

Wilson tried to alternate Layne and Rote. Though the two players, both Texans, remained personal friends, Wilson and President-General Manager Edwin J. Anderson said they were aware of some friction.

The Lions lost four of six pre-season games, lost to Baltimore and tied Green Bay in the regular season so far. From now on, Rote and Morrall, former Michigan State star, will be the understudy.

Northwestern Halfback Leads Big 10 Scorers

CHICAGO (AP) — Northwestern halfback Ron Burton took over the Big Ten all-games football scoring lead this week with two touchdowns in a 28-0 victory over Stanford.

Burton now has four touchdowns for the season and a total of 24 points. Four others are tied for second with 18 points each. They are Don Clark of Ohio State, Ed Hart and Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin and Bob Jarus of Purdue.

Burton now has four touchdowns for the season and a total of 24 points. Four others are tied for second with 18 points each. They are Don Clark of Ohio State, Ed Hart and Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin and Bob Jarus of Purdue.

Wendell Wielke has thrown 10 touchdown passes to Tom Urban in Jeromeville's four six-man games. As Gil Smith's Van Wert team made it 41 in a row against Shawnee Friday, Charley Young returned the opening kickoff 95 yards—only to have the score nullified by an offside penalty. Young has booted 14 straight extra points.

Massillon's 19-7 win over Steubenville's Big Red came late. Steubenville took a 7-6 lead with seven minutes to go, but Massillon's Jim Snively, a 150-pound sub-halfback, ran the kickoff back to the 11 and then scored two plays later. Massillon scored again with seconds to go.

Lorain quarterback Dave Young has completed 21 of 33 passes for 336 yards and four touchdowns. Lorain beat Cleveland John Hay 44-0 last week despite nine fumbles and 10 penalties which cost 120 yards.

Alliance quarterback Walter Zingg threw two scoring passes, and gained 143 yards on four of five completions against Barber-ton.

Middleton held Springfield three times inside the 10-yard line, but finally succumbed 8-6 to a 49-yard touchdown run by Bill Glenn and a conversion plunge by Bob Bradford.

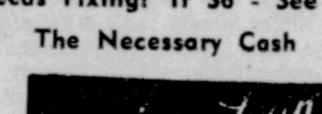

Coach Joe Michaels, who has tutored Frederick's own to four straight wins, watched from the sidelines as the referee marched off four penalties of 15 yards each against his team during a single drive. When the Freddie's finally scored, despite the lost 60 yards, Joe yelled at the man in the striped shirt:

"What'sa matter? Did you give up?"

Spahn and Ditmar Tipped for Sixth Battle of Series

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two-time Milwaukee winner Warren Spahn and New York's Art Ditmar appeared to be the logical candidates today to pitch Wednesday's sixth game of the World Series.

Bob Turley shut out the Braves 7-0 Monday. That gave the Yankees their second victory in five games and fanned their faint hopes of becoming the first team in 23 years to overcome a 3-1 handicap.

Neither manager — Fred Haney of the Braves or Casey Stengel of the Yankees — has announced his pitcher as yet. They said enough, however, to indicate that Spahn and Ditmar would get the call.

Asked whether he thought Spahn, who pitched a brilliant two-hitter in the fourth game Sunday, would be sufficiently rested by Wednesday, Haney replied: "He's got all winter to rest."

Spahn said: "I'll be ready, but it's up to the manager. If he asks me, I'll try to do the job for him."

Stengel listed four possible pitching choices . . . Don Larsen, Ryne Duren, Johnny Kucks and Ditmar.

"Right now Ditmar would be the closest man that should pitch," he said. "He's better now than he was last year. I haven't had to use him in this series yet, but he's been my No. 1 early inning relief man all the way through. I didn't use him because I had no spot for him."

Stengel was especially pleased by the way his charges went to work on Lew Burdette Monday once they had the Yankee-killer on the ropes.

After touching him up for a run on Gil McDougald's third-inning home run, the Yankees routed him with four hits in the sixth. By the time left Juan Pizarro put out the fire, the Yankees had scored six runs and the game was no longer in doubt.

It was the first time the Yankees had been able to beat Burdette in five fall meetings.

Burdette didn't appear depressed.

"They got only one good hit off me in that sixth inning," he said, referring to Yogi Berra's double.

"As for McDougald's homer, it was a freak. The ball hit the screen alongside the foul pole. It

158 Sign Up To Give Blood Here Thursday

Gradale Sorority
Hopes to Get Still
More of the List

Members of the Gradale Sorority, by knocking on doors and ringing telephone bells, by noon Tuesday had 158 donors signed up to give blood when the Red Cross blood bank's mobile unit comes here Thursday.

But, they are not letting up on their recruiting efforts yet—Mrs. Horace Jacobs, co-chairman of the committee, said the Sorority wants to sign up at least 175.

She explained that although the county's quota had been reduced from 175 to 150 pints for this visit of the bloodmobile, some volunteer donors always are rejected by the examining physicians. She added that, in addition, Memorial Hospital has been using more blood than has been donated to the blood bank here.

Records at the hospital show 611 pints had been used there from Jan. 1 to Oct. 1. During the same period only 581 pints have been donated to the blood bank here.

THE MOBILE unit will be at the First Presbyterian Church from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. Thursday.

The regular staff of technicians will come here with the unit, but volunteer physicians and nurses here will make the examinations and the detail clerical work will be handled by a volunteer staff of women just as in the past.

Mrs. Robert P. Wilson, a member of the Red Cross committee, explained that the county's quota had been reduced because the Red Cross commitment to contribute to the federal stockpile for civilian use had been fulfilled.

Mrs. Jacob said anyone who wants to give blood who has not been contacted, may call her or Mrs. Robert Boyd, the co-chairman, any member of the sorority or Mrs. Leonard Korn, the Red Cross secretary here.

Appointments to give blood at a specified time also may be arranged, she said. Appointments, she commented, make for more efficiency at the bloodmobile and greater convenience for the donors by minimizing the waiting time.

Democrats Make It Hard On Farmers, Bricker Claims

CAMDEN, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's farmers are doing relatively well, but if it weren't for power-hungry Democrats they'd be doing a whole lot better, says U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker.

By imposing and retaining unnecessary government controls on agriculture, the Ohio Republican said Monday night, Democratic congresses have prevented the farmer from receiving his fair share of the over-all national prosperity.

Bricker, seeking his third term in the Senate, delivered a major farm address capping a day's tour through southwestern Ohio's farm belt.

"Proponents of high farm price supports, having assumed power after World War II to control the farmer's production, are reluctant to give up that power," Bricker said.

Democrats, he said, have steadfastly refused to lower price supports and have imposed acreage limitations to make them politically palatable.

Some partisan critics claim farm prices have fallen 16 percent since 1952 and that net farm income is down 25 percent, Bricker said.

Damage Case Trial Now in Second Day

Jury trial of a $10,000 damage suit against the Sever Williams Co., Washington C. H. contractors, went into its second day in Common Pleas Court Tuesday.

Trial of the action, brought by Elmer T. Hensel, Grove City, who seeks judgment for injuries received on a Springfield construction project allegedly because of the negligence of the defendant firm, was delayed for a time Monday because of the necessity of drawing names of 15 more prospective jurors.

The jury, finally sworn at 3:05 p. m., is composed of Donald Crabtree, Dorothy Boso, Allen Sells, Nick Vrettos, Helen Webb, Christian S. Curl, Julia Williams, Frank M. Black, Minnie Crabtree, Harry Hyser, Robert E. Stanforth and Leo R. Cox.

Howard West, 51, 1018 Winfield St., was fined $25 and costs after his 18th intoxication arrest in Washington C. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McCoy of Bloomingburg have chosen the name Jeri Ellen for their daughter born in Memorial Hospital Friday.

Argyle J. Moon, county engineer of Wyandot County and secretary of the County Engineers Assn. of Ohio, visited here briefly Tuesday morning with Fayette County Engineer Charles Wagner. Both attended a meeting of the state association in Wilmington Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Noes, Rt. 1, Sabina, have named their daughter Christine Denise. She was born in Memorial Hospital Sept. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pope and son, Kevin, of Loudonville, former residents of Washington C. H. were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Duff and family, Waterloo Rd.

Joan Ellen is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Plummer, 1018 Lakeview Ave., for their daughter born in Memorial Hospital Thursday.

Turning to Ohio, Bricker said his state is the leading wheat producer east of the Mississippi River and one of the 36 states in the commercial wheat area designated by Congress.

Ohio produces no surplus wheat, Bricker said, "many Ohio farmers are forbidden by arbitrary government controls to grow enough wheat to feed their own livestock and poultry . . . it is legislative tyranny to impose such restrictions upon the farmer . . ."

Bricker said he backed unsuccessful efforts in Congress to remove wheat controls that have caused Ohio to import millions of bushels annually for feed.

Ohio GOP Now Writing '58 Platform

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Republicans began hammering their party platform together today, and Gov. C. William O'Neill has already made two suggestions.

O'Neill, who is running for reelection, has called for a plank declaring the proposal to regulate union contracts is not a party issue. The platform should urge each Ohioan to get as much information as possible, then vote the way he thinks best on the proposal, he said.

At the same time, the GOP governor came out for a firm platform statement against labor racketeering.

His suggestions were in a letter to Ray C. Bliss, GOP state chairman, Monday.

The proposal will be on the Nov. 4 ballot as Amendment No. 2 to the state constitution. It says:

"No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment of non-payment of money, to a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

Ohio Democrats came out against the proposal in their state platform, and O'Neill's opponent, Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, announced his opposition to the amendment some time ago.

O'Neill's letter to Bliss said:

"I believe the party position expressed in the platform should be that every citizen is urged to inform himself and vote his convictions on this issue, and any expression of opinion on this issue should be that of the individual making it."

"I believe that our platform should include a strong plank against racketeering in the labor movement."

Ohio Republicans meet in convention here Thursday and will adopt a platform then.
